Township Eyes 6x6 Foot Plot of Land Next to Borough Hall for 145-Foot Radio Tower

"The police radio equipment you've got now? I'd put it out on the curb."

The brush-off came from Robert Conroy, police radio consultant hired by Princeton Township. He'd like to see the Township scrap its VHF (very high frequency) equipment ("RCA has had three generations of corporate logos since you bought it") and install UHF—ultra-high frequency.

The valley-hills-valley geography of the Township is too much of a stretch even for waves from the high tower next to Township Hall and its antenna. Signals hit the edge of the rim of hills, and don't get over. And trees! "They eat up 70 percent of your radio waves," Mr. Conroy commented darkly.

He sent out his signals loud and clear to Township Committee last Wednesday night and Committee told him to go ahead and apply to the FCC for the UHF channel. No time to lose, he warned: it's the only channel left in this area, and the Mercer County Prosecutor's Office has its eye on it.

But a delicate problem in community relations is involved: Mr. Conroy wants the Township to move its main tower and antenna to a six-by-six foot pad—at Borough Hall. Why? Because Borough Hall is on a hill, 80 feet above the Township Hall "lowland."

"The Borough would get a free ride," Mr. Conroy said. "They'd only have to buy seven police-car radios at $1,000 each. If they didn't want to convert to UHF, we could interconnect their VHF with the Township's UHF via telephone hook-up."

The Borough's present VHF equipment would be hung on the same tower at Township expense.

He said Hopewell Township and East Windsor are the only two Mercer County communities with VHF—besides the two Princetons. Of 460 squad cars in the county, only 60 have VHF.

"I've got to sell some sometimes-difficult individuals on Borough Council, when their own police radio system seems to be working fine," was the cautious warning of Borough Police Commissioner Richard Woodbridge. "We want to know about the aesthetics of a 145-foot mast when we've got an 80-foot one, now, and about wind problems and safety, and of course, cost. I'm moderately in favor, myself."

Committee members felt it might be discourteous to the Borough to authorize Mr. Conroy to apply formally to the FCC—he had already done so, informally—before getting Borough approval.

"I appreciate your sensitivity and I'll convey it to Council," Mr. Woodbridge said, "but I think you

How to Move a Tower

If Borough and Township reach agreement on removing the Township's police radio tower to Borough Hall, it would probably be transported like something out of "La Dolce Vita," by helicopter.

Radio towers like the Township's come in sections. This one could be moved, section by section, presumably hanging from the "claws" of a helicopter and carried 'crosstown by helicopter to its new pad.

So far, this has only been a suggestion. Details like cost and a landing site in the heavily-wooded Borough Hall area, haven't been discussed. (There's always the back yard of "Morven.") should go ahead and apply, to make sure you get the channel, and Council will understand. There's a kind of feeling on Council, you know, 'What does the Township want us to do NOW?'

"I thought all this was very generous," grinned Committee member David Blair.

"New York City and Philadelphia HAMMER Princeton from both sides," Mr. Conroy emphasizes. Not only that, things can be so bad that one Township police officer can't communicate by radio with another until an employee in the Bordentown police department has finished ordering morning coffee.

And when you can't communicate, you have no way of knowing whether an officer is in trouble out there, or it's just the radio.

This, with the present VHF tower at Township Hall, its tip 345 feet above sea-level. (The actual tower is about 145 feet.)

UIHF Stronger. Also, it's hard for walkie-talkies to talk to each other within a steel and concrete building, under VHF. Mr. Conroy said, whereas UHF can go right through steel and concrete.

"This is important," he said firmly. "If a man has to run out of the building to talk to his patrol car—that's bad."

Under Mr. Conroy's proposal, the Township's base station would be at Borough Hall, not the control panel would remain in the Township, connected by leased-line telephone. If telephone lines blow down—transistor radios, with the base station acting as a repeater.

What are the alternatives, if the Borough declines?

The John Street water-tower is a possibility, but Mr. Conroy said the tower is so open that he was afraid equipment could easily be stolen, vandalized, or damaged by weather. Also,

Assistant Schools Superintendent Named

Paul D. Jennings, principal of Jefferson Elementary School, Hamilton, Ohio, will be appointed Acting Assistant Superintendent of Princeton's schools at the school board's next public business meeting, Tuesday, September 6.

More than 112 applicants from many states sought the job, and 21 of them were interviewed by the board and Superintendent Paul Houston. Of the 21 interviewed, over half were covered under the Princeton system's affirmative action plan, according to the school board.

Mr. Jennings, who is in his early 30s, received the B.A. from Penn State in political science. He holds two masters degrees, an M.A. in secondary urban education from New York University and an M.Ed. in education administration from Teachers College, Columbia University. He is now writing the dissertation for a doctorate in education from Columbia.

Before the Hamilton principalship, Mr. Jennings was research associate for the Horace Mann-Lincoln Institute of Teachers College in New York. He has also been a high school principal, a teacher co-ordinator and administrative assistant in bi-lingual education, and a junior high teacher in New York.

In Princeton he will have broad administrative responsibilities including directorship of the personnel office and co-ordinating all curriculum and instruction aspects of the system including Thorough-and-Efficient programs. He is expected to assume his duties in the next two or three weeks.

another 20 feet would have to be added to the height.

Princeton Battlefield? It would show more there than it would behind Borough Hall (the location of the present Borough tower), where trees and buildings conceal it.

"The question is—do you want aesthetics or good police communications?" Mr. Conroy demanded. "These galvanized metal towers don't show much against the sky, anyway."

Where Is It? Committee members discovered that although they had often been to Borough Hall, none of them had ever noticed the police radio tower. It's in the rear, between Borough Hall and the old school gym.

Mr. Conroy wants a total of three antennas: one at Borough Hall, one on the Drakes Corner water-tower and one at Nassau Oil Company (which has already agreed to provide the space for nothing, he said.)

Committee recalled the $40,000 in the capital budget for such a project. Mr. Conroy warned that prices advance five percent a year and Mr. Woodbridge said he, and possibly Mr. Conroy, will present the request to Borough Council on September 8.

"The Borough will be in a funny position," said Mr. Conroy serenely. "If you go UIHF, they'll be the only town in Mercer County on VHF except for East Windsor and Hopewell. They'll be in a no-man's land. Won't be able to talk to anybody."

(The Great Road itself is 7.8 percent), which would be dangerous for anyone cycling downhill. Condemnation of some property was also involved.

Members of the bike advisory committee, including Mrs. Smoyer, watched construction of the path carefully. Mr. Moffat says, to make sure of safety. All members of the committee felt it was important to make a straight line across the Mountain Avenue bridge, for example, with a gradual—instead of abrupt—narrowing of the road.

Near Westerly, someone replaced stakes in a different place after they had been removed following some excavation, and the path ended up right against the road. This was corrected ("We never knew who moved the stakes," Mr. Moffat says).

Mayor Hall says it isn't yet known whether bike-riders can be legally required to use the path and not ride in the roadway. Mopeds must be kept off for the time being, she believes.

The aesthetics of the path seem to bother some, but Mayor Hall is philosophical.

"They just aren't used to it yet," she says.

Township Committee Continues to Study Problem Of Issuing Priorities for Tie-in with Sewer Lines

"I think this whole thing is extraordinarily sticky," said Township Mayor Josie Hall morosely last Thursday night as Committee tried to decide how to decide who gets to hook into a sewer, now that the cover on the moratorium has been lifted just a little bit.

"Why not a lottery?" the Mayor added. "Ideally, Borough and Township should be lumped together and connections limited to single dwellings, chosen on the basis of a lottery."

But municipal attorney Gordon Griffin wasn't happy about that suggestion.

"A lottery is irrational," he said. "It is more defensible legally if you have criteria for selection."

Monday, Mayor Hall sat down with colleague Margaret Broadwater, Mr. Griffin and Administrator Joseph R. Nini to discuss in more detail the general suggestions made Thursday (but not a lottery). It looks as though:

- Malfunctioning systems can tie into a sewer line.
- People who owned property before the 1973 moratorium will have high priority.
- Properties with septic tanks and holding tanks will be next, followed by "other."

TOPICS

Of The Town

No Easy Answer. The stickiest question of all may be "how to divide the gallonage with the Borough?"

The state has allocated only 64,000 gallons per day. Princeton University is claiming 27,000 for its biochemistry lab -- not the 17,000 gallons everyone had expected. The Borough will need 10,000 for the 100 units of housing proposed for the elderly. This leaves 27,000 to be divided -- how? -- between Township and Borough.

The SOC's position is that the University is an equal partner, so it's reasonable to grant the University's request. On the basis of recommendations from Borough and Township governing bodies, the SOC will decide, but SOC members want procedures to follow so they can make a fair determination of real hardship.

"Give your representative on the Sewer Operating Committee enough flexibility to sit down with the Borough representative and come to an agreement together," suggested the SOC secretary, George Olexa. He is also the Borough engineer.

"This argues for consolidation," grinned David Blair, Committee's representative on the SOC.

Time Differential. Mrs. Broadwater observed that the 100-unit PCH project and even the biochemical lab are "paper" connections which won't be completed "for ages," and Mayor Hall added, "The Township has people in need, right here. That's not true in the Borough."

Two of those people, Mr. and Mrs. Ho Kim, explained their plight. The Kims' house is almost ready to occupy; should they go to the expense of installing a holding tank or can they tie in? They must be out of their present rented house by September 1. They weren't given much encouragement.

Mr. Olexa told Committee the SOC has a "mixed bag" of requests claiming hardship. One property-owner is paying $100 a month to have the contents of his holding tank carted away.

"Rough," Mr. Blair sympathized, "but if he had waited to build until the moratorium was lifted, his costs would be a lot higher."

Incidentally, Mr. Olexa said it is all right for holding tank carting companies to dump their loads directly at the River Road plant. This bypasses the leaky sewer lines. Occasionally, however, companies that have no permit do dump loads into the Pretty Brook plant, he said.

Approval Anticipated. When Committee asked Mr. Olexa whether the state will dole out more gallons when these 64,000 are allotted, his prompt reply was a confident "yes." He even said he thought Princeton could ask for more right now, and be favorably received.

With new grouting equipment, whose purchase was just authorized by the Borough, the SOC hopes to save another 1,000,000 gallons a year, Mr. Olexa told Committee. This November, when the new plant goes into operation, the quality of discharge into the Millstone will be sharply improved, he continued, and all these things will encourage the state to release more gallonege.

But still the nagging question - how to allocate fairly? Asked this question, Mr. Griffin said drily, "I'm not sure I have time between now and breakfast....."

However, he did propose that property ownership before the ban be given a high priority.

"If you buy a lot, hook into a sewer and are ready to build, then find you can't, that's hardship," he explained. "The guy who puts in a holding tank shot crap: he may make it, he may not."

The money it costs to have a holding tank pumped isn't regarded as "hardship," Mr. Olexa said.

Priorities Listed. Committee also agreed that single-family connections be given priority before developers. "People who have been sitting on land for years should have a crack at it before some 20-unit developer."

But Mrs. Brondwater reminded everyone that the

Delay in Magazine Delivery Not Fault Of Post Office, Postmaster Here Says

If you have grown accustomed to receiving your copy of the New Yorker on a Saturday and it suddenly starts coming two days later on Monday, or to getting People on Tuesday and it doesn't arrive until Thursday, don't automatically blame the United States Postal Service.

James Gall, postmaster at the Alexander Road office, reports that publishers do not always send out their magazines in the same order. People at the front of the mailing list one week might be at the end another week.

The people at the Post Office, Mr. Gall vows, are not using hundreds of magazines for footstools. "We are mandated to deliver all first class mail and all second class mail as soon as we get it," he said, in response to queries which had reached TOWN TOPICS concerning apparent delays in second class mail. "We realize that newspapers and magazines have time value and we make every effort to include them in the earliest possible delivery," he said.

If residents believe that their magazines are being delayed at some point along the distribution line, Postmaster Gall recommends writing to the publisher and requesting that a watch be placed on the magazine at the Princeton Post Office. Postal Service employees will record the time and day the magazine reaches them, and the time and day it is delivered to the home. That information will be passed back to the publisher.

Benson Building property - in Mt. Lucas Road and 31,000 in the Hillside area. Developer Benedict Yedlin would like 20,000 for five houses and "possible" institutional construction on land across from Princeton House. But Princeton Theological Seminary's long-range 34-home Mt. Lucas development may have some claim. So far, only six houses have been built.

In other sewer action, Committee considered the 100,000 gallons Township share of the Montgomery-Rocky Hill-Princeton sewer. At present, 43,000 are being used; 11,000 by the sewer up Mayor Hall asked whether an obligation to the Seminary exists. Mr. Griffin said that merely sub-dividing property didn't mean an owner could reserve something - like a sewer allocation - forever. "There must be a time when you use it or lose it," he said.

Montgomery Township is thinking about expanding that plant, but may decide to be a customer of the new River Road plant of the Stony Brook Regional Sewerage Authority, Committee learned.

In Princeton Township, Committee estimated, the need will be for 200,000 gallons a day in 15 or 20 years.

Committee decided to find out what the Seminary had paid assessments for, what connections it has made, and what its future plans are.

SHEEHAN PLANS FENCE

Council Hears Protest. Neighbors of the unfinished building at Nassau and Markham usually referred to as the Sheehan Building - although it belongs technically to the 146 Dundas Corporation - formally asked Borough Council last Tuesday if something could be done about what they regard as the safety hazards posed by the skeletal building.

Between receipt of petition and its reading before Council, Timothy J. Sheehan took out a $2,500 building permit for construction of fencing, according to Borough officials.

Council agreed to let Jay Mironov keep the flower container in front of his cycle store temporarily. It is in technical violation of the zoning ordinance. Council members said they wanted comment from Borough engineer George Olexa, who was not present at the meeting.

The ordinance decriminalizing public drunkenness was approved. Council also adopted a $35,000 ordinance for purchase of equipment to correct sewer pipe infiltration.

In a Wednesday work session, Council discussed changes in fees for various permits issued by the engineering department: street opening, site and building permits, and the like.

NEW SEWER AGREEMENTS

In Municipal Hoppers. The revised agreement with the Stony Brook Regional Sewerage Authority - revised to leave out Hopewell Township - must be adopted by the Authority's members by September 10.

Princeton Borough introduced its agreement ordinance last week, and scheduled public hearing for Thursday, September 1. In the Township, Committee members reviewed the agreement last Thursday and are expected to continue their discussions at this Wednesday's meeting.

Regardless of how discussions progress, the ordinance is expected to be introduced so that public hearing can be scheduled - probably for September 7 - in time for the September 10 deadline.

DOG THEFT REPORTED

In Township. A 15-year-old resident of Princeton Community Village off Bunn Road reported to Township police August 9 that her pet springer spaniel had been stolen from a fenced-in enclosure behind her house at 25 Red Oak Row.

Torin Dilley told police that the dog, worth $200 in a pet store and probably far more than that in the heart of its young owner, apparently was taken between 10 p.m. August 8 and 9:14 p.m. the next day.

Police reported that large rocks had been removed from the base of the fence and that metal hooks on the fence post had been pulled back to allow the fence to be pulled up. A leash also was missing.

The springer spaniel is female, black and white, small for her breed, with small scars under each eye. The dog was wearing a black collar and a flea collar.

MAN HIT BY ROCK

On Leigh Avenue. While their victim was deeply engrossed in reading a book at 3:36 a.m. last Friday morning, one or two assailants entered the man's house on Leigh Avenue, sneaked up behind him, and struck him over the head with a chunk of flagstone.

Borough police responded when a neighbor reported hearing a man crying for help. The victim was taken to Princeton Medical Center, where he was treated and released. Police reported that apparently nothing had been stolen.

Borough police also were investigating a larceny that took place Sunday at a Hawthorne Avenue home. The thief gained access through a kitchen window and stole a wallet containing $30 in cash and several credit cards. The wallet, but not the money, was found later at the corner of Witherspoon and Clay Street.

Fresh Air Wanted

One day (Monday) of a rising barometer and lower humidity is all this part of the world has enjoyed ever since August began. The almost-daily showers (and heavier rain) of last week will remain as the dominant part of the forecast through the coming weekend.

The Man's estimate is for an uncomfortable mixture of heat and humidity at least until Sunday, with showers a possibility Wednesday and again on Saturday. He does not, however, even guarantee a 48-hour dry spell extending through Thursday and Friday.

The good news is that the long drought traceable as far back as mid-spring has been broken, but, as so often happens, no one has found a way to turn off the faucet.

Collision with Car Fatal to Cyclist—Girl Injured

AFTERMATH OF CYCLE CRASH: Members of the Princeton Rescue Squad attend to 17-year-old Sharon Kahoe of Cranbury, who was injured in the motorcycle accident Monday evening that claimed the life of Warren Landauer, 22, of Princeton. She was admitted to the Medical Center, where she was listed in fair condition with a compound fracture of the left ankle. Miss Kahoe was a passenger on the motorcycle driven by Mr. Landauer, who suffered a broken neck and was dead on arrival at the hospital. The accident occurred just before 6 o'clock at the intersection of Kingston Road and Prospect Avenue Extension. (Grant Peterson Photos)

Warren Keith Landauer, 22, of 50 Aiken Avenue, died Monday night of injuries suffered when the motorcycle he was driving collided with a car at the intersection of Kingston Road and Prospect Avenue Extension. A passenger on the motorcycle, Sharon Kehoe, 17, of North Mill Road, Cranbury, was listed in fair condition at Princeton Medical Center with a compound fracture of the left ankle.

Township police, who received a report of the accident at 5:58 p.m. Monday, said that the motorcycle had just entered the intersection with Kingston Road from Prospect Avenue Extension when it collided with a Kingston-bound car driven by William J. Scism, 23, of 2614 Hunters Glen, Plainsboro.

Patrolman David Cromwell, who investigated the accident, said that the skid marks of the car on the road were only 25 feet, indicating that Mr. Scism had little time to stop after observing the motorcycle entering the intersection from his right. Kingston Road at that point is a state highway with a speed limit of 45 miles per hour. Prospect Avenue Extension is marked with a stop sign at that intersection.

The right front corner of the Scism car struck the motorcycle broadside, catapulting Mr. Landauer 34 feet across the Kingston Road in the direction of Poe Road, the street intersecting the highway opposite Prospect Avenue Extension.

The victim suffered a broken neck, ruptured trachea, and internal injuries. He was pronounced dead on arrival at the Medical Center.

Catherine Conway Kovacs, 23, of Winstead, Conn., who had been married July 23, was driving to Princeton from the home of her husband's parents in Upper Freehold Township.

State police said that her car crossed into the oncoming lane at a bend in the road, Kovacs; her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Gerard T. Conway of

The victim was pronounced dead on arrival at Hamilton Hospital.

Survivors include her husband, Thomas Kovacs, a nephew of the television comedian, the late Ernie lane at a bend in the road, Kovacs; her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Gerard T. Conway of motorcycle passenger was thrown 64 feet from the point of impact. Both of the motorcyclists were wearing helmets, police said.

Damage to the car was more extensive than to the motorcycle, which Patrolman Cromwell described as a large Suzuki. A passenger in the car, Mr. Scism's wife, Karen, received a slight leg injury which did not require treatment.

Mr. Landauer was born in Princeton and attended Princeton public schools. He enlisted in the U.S. Army following graduation from high school and served two years in Germany.

He was employed by Treeco Tree Surgeons of Hopewell.

State Hopes to Sell House at 142 Hodge Road But Condition Works against $215,000 Price

"Unbelievable! Appalling!" says Howard Menand, referring to the condition of the house next door, the 142 Hodge Road dwelling used for ten years by former State Chancellor of Higher Education Ralph Dungan.

The state is trying, for the second time, to sell the handsome stone house. (See advertisement, page 40) The minimum price is $215,000. The price must be retained because it was in the State Legislature's original approval of the sale, passed in May of this year. It would take legislative action to set a lower minimum.

Last time around -- in June -- there weren't any bidders at all. This time, the state hopes for better luck. But Stuart Robson, tax assessor for the Borough, says he doesn't think the state will get a nibble until it turns to real estate agents for "professional marketing."

"The asking price is certainly a fair one," Mr. Robson said this week. "In fact, it's a bargain. It would market, if it were placed in a local multiple-listing service."

But the condition of the property has apparently turned people off. A crew of six -- reportedly from the Hunterdon County school for the retarded -- worked this Monday trimming hedges and getting the yard under some kind of control.

began when the Rosenberg car was traveling south on Dodds Lane and veered into the left hand lane. It struck a car parked on that side of the road, owned by William Seagers of 987 Mercer Road.

The car then swerved back to the right side of the road and ran into another parked car, this one owned by Louise M. Leshar of 108 Hun Road.

The Rosenberg car proceeded to travel into the front yard of Robert Wagner of 327 Dodds Lane. It struck a tree and came to a halt.

All three cars involved were towed from the scene. Patrolman John Clausen investigated.

TWINS ARE BORN

At Medical Center. Twin girls were born August 11 at Princeton Medical Center to Mr. and Mrs. Darryl Schiff of 9 Scott Avenue. The births of 18 boys and 13 other girls also were reported last week by the Medical Center.

Girls were born to Mr. and Mrs. Ricardo Weder, 1-X Magie Apartments, August 7; Mr. and Mrs. Donald Herr, 6 Station Road, Cranbury; Mr. and Mrs. Kevin McGuire, 25 Millstone Drive, East Windsor; Mr. and Mrs. Edward Olone, 199 Lafayette Avenue, Titusville, all August 8; Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Rosen, 28 Rocky Brook Road, Cranbury, August 9.

Also to Mr. and Mrs. Jeff Grover, 840 Hollow Road, Skillman; Mr. and Mrs. Yen Lung Liu, 82 North Stanworth Drive; Mr. and Mrs. John R. Rauscher, 307 White Pine Circle, Lawrenceville, all August 10; Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Dorsey, 21 Robertson Road; Mr. and Mrs. Adrian Tang, 7-B Magie Apartments, both August 11; Mr. and Mrs. Mark Grossman, 12 Wallingford Drive; Mr. and Mrs. Lamont Tucker, Windsor Castle Apartments, Cranbury, both August 12; and Mr. and Mrs. Stuart Mindlin, 45 Hamilton Avenue, August 13.

Boys were born to Mr. and Mrs. Frank Dreifus, 8 Hillside Avenue, Jamesburg; Mr. and Mrs. Dennis McGrath, Westerlea Apartments, Hightstown; Mr. and Mrs.

Inside -- and interested parties are invited to inspect the interior this Thursday and Friday between 10 and 4 -- the house is, in Mr. Menand's word, "appalling."

Graffiti on Walls. "There has been junk in the fireplaces -- the state official who showed me the house was down on his knees scraping some of it out -- graffiti on the walls, leaks in the roof."

According to Mr. Menand, hedges were not trimmed for two years and on one occasion, he said, he called the Borough Board of Health to get garbage removed.

Apparently, Mr. Menand believes, there has been confusion in the state over who was to take care of the property: the Bureau of Real Property Management, or the Department of Higher Education. He said he had heard from two sources that Chancellor Dungan was given $5,000 a year to maintain the property.

The house has ten bedrooms, five and one-half baths and seven fireplaces. It stands on an acre and a quarter of land.

Also on the property is a four-car garage with a five-room apartment above it.

In fact, Mr. Robson said with a smile that he and his

John Duckett, 29 Springwood Drive, Lawrenceville, all August 7; Mr. and Mrs. Robert J. Gold, 266 Bolton Road, West Windsor; Mr. and Mrs. Ron Hauser, 24 Cranston Road, Kendall Park; Mr. and Mrs. Roger Klein, 1 Yorktowne Court, Princeton Junction; Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Rooherg, 17 Norton Road, Monmouth Junction, all August 8; Mr. and Mrs. Harry Towner, 21 Linden Lane, Plainsboro; and Mr. and Mrs. Roy Wagner, 82 Edgemere Avenue, Plainsboro, both August 9.

Also to Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Etter, 5-E Meadow Lane Apartments; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Yaros, 11-19 Windsor Castle Apartments, both August 11; Mr. and Mrs. Howard Deutch, 714 Twin Rivers Drive, East Windsor; Mr. and Mrs. Craig McClain, Hilltop Mobile Park, Browns Mills; Mr. and Mrs. David White, 12 Brophy Drive, Trenton; Mr. and Mrs. James Lee-You, 82 Princeton Arms South, Cranbury; Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Steinert, 6503 Ocean Boulevard, Brant Beach, all August 12; Mr. and Mrs. Jeffrey Kramer, 9 Smoke Rise Village, New Hope, Pa.; and Mr. and Mrs. William Rose, 20 Library Place, both August 13.

LET'S KEEP IT

Stony Brook Building. The deposits have all been returned to people who had hoped they might be buyers, and the Princeton schools' vacant Stony Brook Building will stay in the school system.

That was the decision reached last week by the school board. The board also discussed the possibility of renting the building on a short-term basis; however, Township zoning officials point out that unless the tenant is in the education business, a change-of-use permit would be required.

Neighbors have protested use of the building by commercial organizations. It was originally a school, then was used for several years as the administration building for the Princeton system. It has been vacant since administration moved into the Valley Road building.

family lived in that garage apartment when they first came to Princeton in 1941.

"We paid $36 a month for it!"

Ten Years Ago, $95,000. The state bought the house for Mr. Dungan and his large family ten years ago, for $95,000. Extensive renovations, amounting to about $75,000, were made at that time.

Because the house is state-owned, it has not brought any taxes into the Borough tax office. Its land is currently valued at $49,200 and the buildings at $70,000 for a total assessment of $119,200.

"At the present rate," Mr. Rohson calculates, "it would bring in $5,912.32 in tax dollars, plus sewer tax."

The state wants to sell the property because the new chancellor of higher education, T. Edward Hollander, will be living on the second floor of "Drumthwacket," the state-owned mansion on Stockton Street.

'MY FAVORITE BOOK'

Children Vote at Library. "My very favorite book in the whole world" is probably E.B. White's "Charlotte's Web," according to last week's hotly-contested referendum in the children's department at the Princeton Public Library.

"The book I hate most" was Kipling's "Captains Courageous," but this was probably because it was the only book in the category. A sly young voter who somehow learned how the balloting was going was so indignant at this indignity heaped upon Kipling that she voted his "Kim" her favorite book.

Voting was done on real machines, supplied free by Mercer County. In earlier primaries, voters were asked to write down - or dictate, if they were too young to pass the literacy test - various titles in each category, and that's how a book got on the ballot. The rest were write-ins.

Why did "Curious George," which took third place in "best book I've read this year," place first in "most boring?"

As Time Goes By. Children's librarian Dudley Carlson thinks it's because you can like a book a lot at one point in your life. But when you look back, you remember how little you were when you liked it, and it becomes, scornfully, a "baby book."

"Favorite" titles also included "The Wizard of Oz," "Are You There, God? It's Me, Margaret," "The Hobbit," "A Little Princess" and even "Little Women."

Write-ins gave two votes each to Dr. Seuss books, "Lord of the Rings," "Mr. Popper's Penguins," "The Story of Helen Keller" and "Winnie the Pooh."

"Hate most" books, besides poor Kipling, included "ABC Books," "Are You There, Margaret?", "Curious George" and "The Wizard of Oz." Many of these titles were also voted "most boring."

Some Inconsistencies. Ms. Carlson discovered, through this referendum, that what kids say they like, and what they ask for and check out can be two different things.

"I get lots of requests for Hardy Boys and Nancy Drew, but nobody wrote those in," she observes. "I think it may be that kids read something like 'Charlotte's Web' over and over and over, so they recognize it as a favorite."

There were 192 registered voters, 94 who voted, 24 absentee ballots applied for and 12 returned, for a total vote of 106. Age of voters ranged from three or four years to around 12. Write-ins were frequently by proxy, executed by a parent more facile with the pencil.

But why "Captains Courageous?" "I think it's one of those books you HAVE to read on a reading list," Ms. Carlson believes.

HUDSON TRIP PLANNED For Senior Citizens. On Thursday, September 8 there will be a trip up the Hudson on the Day Line. The boat will stop at West Point for a tour of the U.S. Military Academy. All interested Princeton residents 60 years of age and older, may register by calling the Princeton Recreation Department at 921-9480 before Friday, August 26.

The cost of the trip is $6.75 per person. The money is due at the Senior Citizens Club meeting at the Harrison Street Firehouse on August 26 at 1:30.

NOT SO LONG AGO: Summer Intime's "Moonchildren" takes a look at the decade of the '60s (police, Vietnam, student anarchy, encyclopedia salesmen, and more) as the final play of the summer season. Thursday is opening night for an eight-run stand.

News Of The THEATRES

"MOONCHILDREN" Final Intime Play. They're saying over at Summer Intime that "Moonchildren," final play of this summer's season, "represents for some, the outside world of careerism, Vietnam, police, encyclopedia salesmen and landlords. For others, the creeping menace of student anarchy laced with marijuana and free sex." "Moonchildren," about a group of college students in the '60s, will open this Thursday at 8:30, playing Friday, Saturday and Sunday, with a 7:30 curtain on Sunday. The same schedule will maintain next week-end. The stage is in Murray Theatre, on the University campus.

Mitchell Ivers is directing. In his cast are summer and winter Intime regulars, like Keith Moore who played File in "110 in the Shade," and Larry Smith who directed this summer's "Creation of the World."

Saturday, August 27:
Princeton High School front lawn.

All performances begin at 8 p.m. Admission is free, but donations are needed and warmly accepted. Directors for these productions are Ali Henderson ("Wandering"), Debbie Bellow ("Adaptation") and Curt Roslaff ("Next").

AUDITIONS:

For Performance Troupe. An invitation has gone out from Creative Theatre for "improvisational actors and creative teachers who like to act."

It's from Creative Theatre Unlimited and the organization's Performance Troupe, which specializes in audience-participation plays for children, using the plays and ideas of the British dramatist, Brian Way.

Auditions will be held in the CTU studio, 33 Mercer Street, Princeton (Trinity Church) from 9:30 a.m. to 11 a.m., and 8 p.m. to 10 p.m. Thursday and Friday, August 25 and 26, or by special appointment. (Call Pam Hoffman, 924-3489 or 883-3772).

The plays to be performed are "Magical Faces," "The Hat" and others to be chosen later. "Magical Faces," for grades one through five, combines music, mask-making and other art forms, drawing the children in the audience to become co-conspirators with two of the characters in making the other characters laugh.

"The Hat," for children in kindergarten through third grade, is about a gently wild musician who has problems with his magic. The audience helps him solve them, along with characters in the play.

Performances will be given in the central New Jersey area, starting in October, funded by the Mercer County Cultural and Heritage Commission, and the New Jersey State Council for the Arts, in cooperation with the National Endowment for the Arts.

CONCERTFRIDAY

At Shopping Center. Summer Sounds will present the fourth in its series of concerts Friday with the contemporary rock-gospel music of "The New Movement". This free outdoor program will be held at the Princeton Shopping Center.

"The New Movement" was organized in 1973 by Glen Missick, the Outreach Minister-Counselor for the Presbyterian churches and the Corner House in Princeton. He is a student at the Princeton Theological Seminary.

The group began in Brooklyn with the aim of bringing, as Glen puts it, "a message of love, peace and hope to a world which is lacking in these things". Although the group operates on a part-time basis, since all its members are currently full-time college students, they still find time for extensive concerts throughout the Northeast, and have been on their own cable-TV show in New York.

The group members are Lorraine Leddiard, alto lead; Siobhan Lee, a soprano from Princeton, filling in for a singer on summer leave; Glen Missick, baritone; Dennis Nelson, electric piano; Arthur Nelson, bass guitar; Steve Standard, lead guitar; and Kenny Taylor, drums. There will also be a guest group performing.

This Summer Sounds concert, starting at 7:30 and lasting until 9:30 is sponsored by the Princeton Youth fund in cooperation with the Recreation Department, the Arts Council and Princeton University.

Four Reasons for High Taxes.

To the Editor of Town Topics:

Since I have just paid my current real estate taxes and have noticed that, in spite of the state income tax, there has been no significant reduction in the real estate tax, I am acutely aware of the cost of local government. When the question arises we are constantly reminded of the rising cost of providing the necessary services.

I would like to share with you one observation. A few minutes ago a Princeton Township pickup truck pulled in front of my house to mow the grass in a small circle, perhaps 60 feet in diameter. To accomplish this enormous task there were: (1) One man in the cab of the pickup (asleep), (2) One man in the rear of the pickup (asleep), (3) One man mowing, (4) One girl mowing.

All to do a job I could have done alone in fifteen minutes. Why?

A Tribute to Joe Jingoli:

To the Editor of Town Topics:

Your story (Aug. 3) about the retirement of Princeton High School coach Joe Jingoli rekindled warm memories.

It is undeniable that he honed the single-wing attack to a precision unusual in high school football. The gridiron battles with the rival Trenton schools are classic; they are perhaps rivaled only by the glory of the concurrent Kazmaier-Flippin era at Princeton University.

Yet, barely alluded to is the fact that Mr. Jingoli was a school teacher, par excellence. Without a doubt, his inspiring course in American Literature was by far the academic highlight of my career at Princeton High School during the 1950's.

I believe that I speak for many in wishing Mr. Jingoli the very best in his retirement.

News of the Theatres

winning "Hester Street," is now on the screen of the Montgomery Center Theatre in the Montgomery Shopping Center, Routes 206 and 518.

The producers are Raphael Silver and Joan Micklin Silver, who formed Midwest Film Productions, Inc., to produce "Hester Street," which was written and directed by Mrs. Silver. She has directed "Between the Lines" also, a film described as "a warm and comic exploration" of what happens to a small weekly newspaper in Boston when it is taken over by a publishing giant. (Everything is fictitious, the producers say.)

Most of the actors use improvisational technique in "Between the Lines," not actually improvising on camera, but rehearsing with Mrs. Silver and developing various approaches to scenes, drawing from their own experiences.

For a party sequence, the Silvers wanted an exciting sound from a group on their way up in the music world. They found Southside Johnny and the Asbury Jukes, a rock band with one album already released and a second on the way.

"Hester Street," a film about immigrant life in New York in the 1890s, won for Mrs. Silver a nomination for a Writers Guild Award for the screenplay, and an Academy Award nomination for the leading actress, Carol Kane.

Poll Shows Bateman Leads Byrne for Governor But Imperiale Cuts into Republican's Margin

Republican gubernatorial challenger Raymond Bateman holds an early lead over incumbent Brendan Byrne among New Jersey's registered voters, according to the latest Eagleton Poll. Bateman's edge is slimmer with Independent Anthony Imperiale in the race.

The statewide survey, conducted in late July, finds Bateman leading Byrne by a 47 percent to 37 percent margin among self-reported registered voters. Fifteen percent are undecided. Among those undecided, 28 percent lean to Bateman, 18 percent lean to Byrne.

In a three-man race with Bateman, Byrne and Imperiale, the Republican's lead diminishes. Bateman receives 41 percent, Byrne gets 35 percent and Imperiale receives 11 percent. Eleven percent remain undecided.

Imperiale siphons off more than twice as many supporters from Bateman than from Byrne. Fifty-five percent of the Newark State Senator's supporters otherwise prefer Bateman, while only 24 percent come from Byrne's ranks. The remaining 21 percent of Imperiale supporters favor neither major party candidate.

Largely Unknown. While Bateman leads, he remains largely unknown to most New Jersey voters. Only 38 percent could name Bateman as the Republican gubernatorial candidate. In comparison, 62 percent can name Byrne as the Democrat.

Bateman's major advantage over Byrne is with

New Jersey's pivotal Independent vote. Bateman leads Byrne among Independents by a 55 percent to 27 percent margin, with 17 percent undecided. In the 1973 election, by contrast, an October survey found Byrne with almost twice as many Independent voters as his Republican challenger Charles Sandman. Independents, comprising about 45 percent of the electorate, outnumber either Democrats or Republicans.

Much support for Bateman and Byrne follows traditional partisan lines. Bateman emerged from the June primary with a largely united Republican party. Seventy-six percent of Republicans favor Bateman against the incumbent, and only 13 percent favor Byrne. Only 18 percent of New Jersey's registered voters consider themselves Republicans.

The New Jersey POLL

The Republican also receives majority support from conservatives, whites, females, Protestants, persons with incomes over $20,000, and those who are self-employed.

Ranks Closed. After a divisive June primary, Democrats have begun to close ranks behind Byrne. Sixty-two percent of Democrats now indicate they support Byrne in a two-man race with Bateman, while 23 percent favor Bateman. A May, 1977 Eagleton Poll found only 46 percent of registered Democrats voicing support for Byrne against an unnamed Republican.

Byrne's party support is not far off his 1973 pace, when he won a landslide victory against Charles Sandman. An October, 1973 Eagleton Poll found Byrne with 69 percent of his party's vote. Byrne is also receiving majority support among liberals and Blacks.

Eagleton analyst Mark Schulman noted that the small number of undecided voters - 15 percent - at this early stage is unusual. By contrast, the 1973 Eagleton survey, conducted just one month before the election, found more than one voter in four - 26 percent - undecided.

Assessing overall voter attitudes, Schulman commented. "These early responses indicate that many New Jerseyans may be voting against Brendan Byrne rather than for Ray Bateman. Voters are relatively unacquainted with Bateman, his personal qualities, his issue positions, and even his name. At the same time, Governor Byrne continues to receive low marks for his job performance."

Low Ratings for Byrne. Only 29 percent of registered voters give Byrne positive marks of "excellent" or "good," while 69 percent evaluate him negatively as "only fair" or "poor." Three percent offer no opinion. Although his job rating remains low, it has crept up from May, when 25 percent evaluated him positively and 71 percent rated him negatively, with 5 percent undecided.

Schulman noted that Byrne's job performance rating was a sensitive barometer of voter support in the primary and continues to correlate well with vote intentions. Ninety percent of Bateman supporters rate the Governor negatively, while only 10 percent evaluate him positively.

Byrne supporters, on the other hand, are more positive than negative. Fifty-six percent of those favoring the Governor give him positive marks, while 39 percent rate him negatively.

While Byrne is not viewed positively, most voters have little knowledge of Bateman. For example, only 42 percent of Bateman supporters are able to volunteer his name as the Republican candidate.

Voters are less than clear on the Republican's tax position as well. Only one in three - 31 percent - can correctly identify Bateman's position against the present income tax and in favor of budget cuts. A majority - 51 percent - are unable to offer any opinion on Bateman's tax position.

This report is the first in a series of Eagleton Institute analyses of the 1977 Gubernatorial campaign. Other reports will focus on voter perceptions of the candidates' qualifications and personal qualities, the income tax controversy and other campaign issues.

The Eagleton Poll is conducted regularly throughout the year by the Eagleton Institute of Politics at Rutgers University. The latest Poll was conducted between July 18 and 29, when a scientifically selected random sample of 1004 adults, 18 years and older were interviewed by telephone.

LIGHTS FOR TENNIS
Final Action Taken. "These lights are for the whole community and especially for working people in the neighborhood who can't play tennis in the daytime."

This assurance from Township Committee member Elizabeth Hutter convinced her colleague, Hugo Hoogenboom, and he joined in the 5-0 Committee vote approving installation of tennis court lights. The $33,500 cost will be partly met by a $15,000 contribution from Mr. and Mrs. Stanley C. Smoyer.

Final details remain to be worked out, but players will probably be asked to take out a permit for night play, and will pay an attendant a fee, to be used for the electricity bill. The reason for the permit, Mrs. Hutter explained, is that Committee wants to be sure residents aren't squeezed out by non-residents.

For some weeks, Committee has been discussing the possible realignment of Cherry Valley Road to straighten a bad curve. The road weaves in and out of Princeton and Montgomery Townships, and Montgomery is said to be interested in the re-alignment.

"I drive that road all the time and I don't mind the curves; they make you treat the road with some respect," said Harleston Hall, 1092 Great Road.

Mr. Hall, who is Mayor Josie Hall's husband, advised better signs for Cherry Valley, because he said its curves come upon the driver unexpectedly.

Committee decided to query residents of Cherry Valley, and to find out what Montgomery has decided to do.

County Has Funds Available for Groups Ready to Work toward Crime Prevention

Escort services for the elderly, "block-watch" programs, youth-crisis centers.....any program that might prevent crime, reduce the fear of crime or improve the administration of justice, is eligible for funding by Mercer County, the money going to local non-profit organizations, the county announced this week.

Some 75 grants will be awarded by the Law Enforcement Assistance Administration to community-level organizations, which will be expected to make funds available to neighborhood groups.

Jug-Handle Delayed. Completion of the Mountain Avenue extension and jug-handle has been held up because an arcane organization called the State House Commission — which only meets twice a year — must approve all conversions of park lands to public roads. Committee took the action necessary to deed eight-tenths of an acre of Community Park to the Department of Transportation to satisfy this requirement. The State House Commission will meet in September.

Administrator Joseph R. Nini reported that the state has refused to approve a four-way stop signal at the Mountain-State jug-handle intersection. Committee had proposed it to facilitate crossing for bike-riders.

Balcort Drive residents protesting a new four-inch thick pavement, manholes said to be over five inches high, and drainage plans were unable to convince Committee

County Executive Arthur R. Sypek suggested that local chapters of national organizations concerned with community improvement, anti-crime groups or other community-based organizations might come up with programs that could qualify for a grant.

The first deadline is August 31. The next is October 31 and the final one, December 31. Groups who would like help are invited to talk with Edmund Stoy, criminal justice planner for Mercer County. His number is 989-6567.

That their suggestions were better than the Township engineer's plans. The protest became a duel of experts — Bagwan Das, assistant Township engineer, sparring with Robert Harvey, 31 Balcort, an engineer who is also executive director of the Stony Brook Regional Sewerage Authority.

Committee conceded that the contractor had made the manholes too high and promised a correction, but the four-inch pavement will be laid as planned.

MARKSMAN TITLE WON
 By Ptl. Gaylord. Township Patrolman Anthony Gaylord captured first place in the individual marksman division of the Mercer County Police Marksmen Association competition last Sunday. Patrolman Gaylord and fellow Township Patrolman James Vandermark won the two-man team sharpshooter division.

The event drew 90 competitors and raised $400 for Deborah Hospital.

The competition was based on accuracy of shooting at different distances under time pressure. The officers had to fire and reload their revolvers during the competition, which was made more difficult by a driving rain.

Raymond J. Woodrow, Director of Special Studies for Princeton's University Research Board, has been chosen to receive the Society of Research Administrators' Distinguished Contribution to Research Administration Award at the Society's 11th annual meeting in October.

A graduate of Williams College, Mr. Woodrow came to Princeton in 1946 as the executive officer of the newly formed University Committee on Project and Research Invention. At that time, increasingly larger amounts of monies were being invested by various programs of the Federal government in the research programs of American colleges and universities and he was responsible for developing and implementing mechanisms by which the university accepted and administered grants and contracts from federal, state and private sources. The patterns he was instrumental in establishing in those early days of partnership have remained effective over the past 30 years.

Ruth M. Gilbert, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Gilbert of 59 Shady Brook Drive, has begun a two year term of voluntary service with the Mennonite Board of Missions and is working as a teacher in Whitesburg, Ky. She is a 1973 graduate of Northfield-Mt. Hermon School in Northfield, Mass. and of Wheelock College in Boston, Mass.

Ten area residents will enter Bucknell University in Lewisburg, Pa., this fall as freshmen. They are Christopher Brown, 142 Moore Street; Leigh K. Faden, 51 Edgerstoune Road; Cheryl A. Sowers, 191 Bertrand Drive; and Eric A. Suber, 168 Guyot Avenue, all of Princeton.

Dr. Hartmann is the author of "Victorian Murderesses," a study of 13 French and English women accused of murder during the Victorian era which was published earlier this year. She is currently working on another book, "The State of Womanhood," to be published by Doubleday.

Cadet Robert J. Micinski, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Micinski, 1671 Lawrence Road, Lawrenceville, has completed six weeks of training in fundamental military skills at the Army Reserve Officers' Training Corps basic camp at Ft. Knox, Ky.

Howard B. Waxwood, Jr., 72, of 303 Witherspoon Street, died August 11 at Princeton Medical Center. Principal of the Witherspoon School on Quarry Street for many years, he had been active in civic and religious affairs of the community throughout much of his life.

Mr. Waxwood was a native of New York City and graduated from Rutgers University, where he also earned a master's degree. He had done further post-graduate work at Columbia and the University of Chicago.

He served for many years as principal of the Witherspoon School retiring in 1967. He was president of the Mercer County Teachers Association and a director of the Teachers Federal Credit Union.

Mr. Waxwood also found time to hold membership in the Princeton Old Guard, the YMCA, the Red Cross and to aid in the work of the Youth Employment Service and the United Negro College Fund. He was chairman of the Paul Robeson Memorial Committee and was also a member of the Mercer County Cancer Society. He was active here on behalf of open housing and also served in the Princeton Association for Human Rights.

Before coming to Princeton, Mr. Waxwood had been a member of the faculty at Morehouse College in Atlanta and of Dillard University in New Orleans. Alumni of Dillard had honored him recently for excellence as a professor of physics and mathematics.

Surviving are his wife, Susie Brown Waxwood; a son, Howard 3d; a brother, Vincent in Nebraska; and two grandchildren.

The funeral was held at the Witherspoon Presbyterian Church, where Mr. Waxwood had been an elder, trustee and treasurer for many years. The Rev. Charles Quillian officiated, with burial in Princeton Cemetery.

Contributions in his memory may be made to the Witherspoon Church Building Fund.

Stanley Wilks, 44, of Arlington, Va., died August 7 in George Washington University Hospital, Washington, D.C. He was the son of Mrs. Gena O. Wilks of 1 Campbellton Circle and the late Samuel S. Wilks, a statistician at Princeton University for many years.

Mr. Wilks developed inflammation of the pancreas last November, and his case attracted attention when he agreed to being paralyzed for 72 days so that his body, functioning more slowly, could concentrate on fighting off the disease. With Mr. Wilks' permission, the drug curare was administered to him.

The Washington Post reported that Mr. Wilks' prolonged treatment with sophisticated medical equipment also drew attention because of the unusual cost of his hospitalization. A spokesman for the George Washington University Health Maintenance Organization, which will pay the fees, was quoted as estimating the expense as between $260,000 and $300,000.

The battle against pancreatitis appeared to have been won last April, when Mr. Wilks developed a fever whose source his doctors were never able to pinpoint during his lifetime. It kept him hospitalized, and following his death, was traced through an autopsy to a small abscess in the lung.

Howard B. Waxwood Jr.

Mr. Wilks was born in 1933 while his parents were in London. He graduated from North Texas State College in 1954, following that with post-graduate work at Cambridge in England and at Columbia in New York, receiving a master's degree there in Applied Mathematics. His career had been devoted to service as a mathematician with federal agencies and with the Army, most recently in Bethesda, Md.

In addition to his mother, he is survived by his wife, Jocelyn, three daughters and a son. Contributions in his memory may be sent to the George Washington University Surgical Research Fund.

Paul C. Chu, 43, of 8 Linden Drive, Belle Mead, died August 8 in Raritan Valley Hospital, Green Brook. A native of the Philippines, he had lived in this area for the past four years and had been a mechanical engineer for Western Electric since 1961.

Surviving are his wife, Agnes M. Chu; two sons, his mother, four brothers and eight sisters.

The service was held at the Kimble Funeral Home, with Mass of Christian Burial celebrated at St. Joseph's Church, East Millstone, and burial in Rocky Hill Cemetery.

H. McKim Steele, 75, of Cinnaminson, died August 13 in Burlington County Hospital, Mount Holly. A former resident of Princeton, he was a member of the Class of 1923 at the University, where he had studied architecture. He earned his M.F.A. from Princeton in 1927. Mr. Steele was chief underwriter for the Federal Housing Administration in the Camden, New Jersey area, and had served in the same capacity in San Antonio, Texas. He retired in 1963.

Surviving are his wife, the former Susan Duffield; two sons, H. McKim Steele, Jr., of West Hartford, Conn., and Henry D. Steele of New York; a sister, Mrs. N. Smith Pendleton of Baltimore, Md.; and three grandsons.

The funeral was held in Moorestown, followed by a private burial service.

Mrs. Olive C. Golden, 87, of Yard Road, Pennington, died August 14 at the Buckingham Valley Nursing Home, Buckingham, Pa. Born in Trenton, she had lived in Pennington since 1920.

Mrs. Golden was a member of the Pennington Presbyterian Church and of its Friendship Bible Class. She also belonged to the LX Club of Pennington.

Widow of Lester Golden, she is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Audrey Black, with whom she lived; a son, Bradford, of Flemington; a sister, Mrs. Elsie Jeffries of Pennington; six grandchildren and six great-grandchildren.

The funeral will be held

Wednesday at 2 at the Blackwell Memorial Home, Pennington. The Rev. Donald Thiel, assistant pastor of the Pennington Presbyterian Church, will officiate, with burial in Pennington Cemetery. Contributions in her memory may be made to the American Cancer Society or to the Pennington Presbyterian Church.

Mrs. Catherine A. Maul, 87, of 208 Village Road West, Dutch Neck, died August 15 in the Merwick Unit of the Princeton Medical Center.

Born in Keesville, N.Y., she had lived in West Windsor for the past 15 years and had spent most of her life in Brooklyn. Mrs. Maul was a graduate nurse of St. John's Episcopal Hospital in Brooklyn.

Widow of Norman Maul, she is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Robert C. Kollman, with whom she lived; a brother, Charles T. Anson of Shasta, Calif.; a grandson, a granddaughter and seven great-grandchildren.

A private service and burial were held. Contributions may be made to the West Windsor Library Memorial Fund, Princeton Junction.

Bessie Vanderbilt Stevens, 90, of Cleveland, Ohio, formerly of Princeton, died August 7 in Cleveland.

She was the wife of the late Roland Stevens, the late Charles Brook, and the late William Mooney, all graduates of Princeton University. A resident of Princeton for 26 years, she graduated from Princeton High School in 1904 and from Vassar College in 1908.

The service was held at Princeton Cemetery under the direction of the Mather Funeral Home.

MORE GREEN ACRES?

Maybe, for Quarry Park. Ready with the success of other applications for state and Federal money, the Borough may decide to ask for more state Green Acres money to develop newly-acquired Quarry Park. Green Acres funds helped buy the land. The sum of $10,000 is already in hand, left over from land acquisition. Mayor Robert W. Cawley said this week that it will be used to cover grading costs, with grading to begin in early fall.

Although there are no final plans for the park, it will be used for passive recreation—no baseball diamonds or basketball courts—and the Borough has blocked out these possibilities. Playground equipment for a "tot lot" ($2,000); lighting ($5,000);

Refund on Fuel Bill

You may be able to get back some of the money you spent on fuel in last winter's cold snap, under the Federal "Crisis Intervention" program. But you must act quickly: deadline is Wednesday, August 31.

If you paid your heating bills and they were so high you couldn't meet other necessary living costs, you may be eligible. Talk to Barbara Schleyer at the Princeton Youth Center, 924-0996 (she is there in the mornings) and she will tell you whether you qualify and help you fill out the forms.

The program is not just for the elderly, although they are expected to be the chief beneficiaries.

You will need proof of income—either a W-2 form, income-tax form, Medicaid card, pay-check stubs or SSI declarations.

Many New Jerseyans Share Basic Doubts About Integrity of Their State Government

This is the sixth in the eight-part survey on life in New Jersey conducted by the Eagleton Poll.

New Jerseyans, reflecting the increased skepticism toward authority that has characterized the 1970's, have basic doubts about the integrity of their state government and political leaders.

The Eagleton Institute's sixth report on "New Jersey Images" shows that only a bare majority—52 percent—of New Jerseyans consider the state's politicians to be either "very" or "somewhat" honest as opposed to 41 percent who say they are "very" or "somewhat" dishonest. Seven percent have no opinion. Politicians with whom the Poll's respondents have had direct contact fare only slightly better. Fewer people—23 percent—rate these politicians as dishonest while 50 percent feel them to be honest. The remaining 27 percent offer no opinion.

New Jersey state government does not fare much better than the state's politicians. Nineteen percent rate state government as "very corrupt" with 59 percent terming it "somewhat corrupt." Only 11 percent give the state government a clean bill of health by calling it "not corrupt."

The national government receives similar ratings but local government in New Jersey does somewhat better. Twenty-one percent consider the national government "very corrupt" with 61 percent saying "somewhat corrupt" and 10 percent "not corrupt." By comparison 12 percent rate their local government as "very corrupt," 48 percent say "somewhat corrupt" and 28 percent say "not corrupt."

Other States No Better. Although New Jerseyans appear skeptical about the integrity of their own state government most did not feel that New Jersey suffers in comparison to other states. Only 24 percent feel that New Jersey is more corrupt than other states while 34 percent say it is less corrupt and 25 percent see no difference. In fact, 42 percent of those who characterize New Jersey's state government as very corrupt rate it as no more corrupt, or even less corrupt, than other states.

Stephen Salmore, Director of the Eagleton Poll, explained that "our survey reflects a broad distrust of most major institutions, not just government, and not just government in New Jersey. If most of our respondents see New Jersey as somewhat corrupt, or worse, they see other states as no better or even worse."

However, the public's skepticism about the state's politicians does not reflect a cynical attitude about people in general. The recent survey of the state's residents by the Rutgers based Institute also finds that 81 percent of those polled consider people they deal with on an everyday basis to be basically honest. Only 16 percent rate their fellow citizens as dishonest.

New Jerseyans' perceptions of corruption in state government are essentially unchanged since 1975 but up over 1973. An Eagleton Poll conducted in March of 1973, when the Watergate revelations were just beginning, found that only 8 percent of those surveyed considered their state government "very corrupt."

Salmore in commenting on the changes from 1973, noted that "people have become much more aware of the issue of governmental corruption since Watergate. As compared to our earlier findings the percentage of people who think New Jersey is either more corrupt or less corrupt than other states has increased while those who see New Jersey as no different than other states on this score has dropped by almost half. Governmental corruption has not necessarily increased," Salmore explained, "but it has become a more salient issue for many people."

Perceptions of corruption in state government vary little among the different types of people in the state. Republicans, the better educated, and those under thirty are somewhat more likely to see New Jersey as more corrupt than other states. The less well educated and those who have lived in New Jersey for more than 10 years tend to see the state as less corrupt than others.

Residents of the state's largest cities, along with Blacks, men and younger respondents, were least likely to see their local governments as free from corruption. Republicans and those earning more than $20,000 per year were most likely to give their local governments a clean bill of health.

student chased the intruder away and summoned Borough police.

Reported stolen were a 35mm camera valued at $250, with two lenses worth an additional $210. The suspect was described as being between the ages of 17 and 19, with short hair, a slim build, and carrying a blue nylon bag.

Indecent Exposure. This Monday at 1:25 University proctors caught a 14-year-old Lawrenceville boy and turned him over to the Borough police juvenile officer, Detective Douglas Watson.

The boy was charged with exposing himself to a woman student in Firestone Library.

Two thefts were reported from cars parked and locked near Broadmead, the street owned by Princeton University and bordered by faculty housing. A purse belonging to Susan Bubeck of Hightstown was stolen August 4. This Monday a wallet belonging to a Princeton resident was removed from the front seat of a car parked there.

In Princeton

DEALERSHIP AWARDED

For Peugeot Cars, Princeton Volkswagen, Ltd., 206 Princeton, N.J., has been awarded a dealership by Peugeot Motors of America. Robert Feldman heads the dealership, which also sells Volkswagen cars.

Established in 1972, Princeton Volkswagen will offer the complete line of Peugeot automobiles comprised of the 504 diesel and gasoline-powered sedan and station wagon and the 604 SL luxury sedan.

"We at Peugeot are very pleased to welcome aboard Robert Feldman and his fine dealership," said Trevor Rolfe, national sales and marketing manager. "He joins our network of 300 dealers across the country who provide reliable, professional and quality sales and service in the deepest tradition of Peugeot automobiles."

NET INCOME IMPROVES

At Systemedics Inc. The first half results for Systemedics Inc. show "a slight decrease in sales but a significant improvement in net income" compared to the same period in 1976, according to a letter to stockholders from the company president, William P. Krause.

Systemedics, which is based at the Princeton Air Research Park on Route 206, reported sales in the first half of this year of $1,997,526, down from $2,107,904 a year ago. Net income, however, was $65,174 in the first six months, compared to a loss of $72,569 in the same period in 1976.

Income per share, adjusted for a tax benefit of the loss carried forward, was 85 cents in the first half of '77. The loss last year was set at 95 cents per share.

In his letter, Mr. Krause stated that "the medical billing business continues at a rather listless pace with many medical professionals apparently waiting out what direction the administration intends to take near term, which could affect their business. In the consulting and applied research area, while sales continued at about the same level as in the first quarter, operating expenses rose due to an increase in sub-contracted work for several projects, and an expanded marketing effort."

"We have been notified of a new contract with the Occupational Safety and Health Administration, to be performed together with Mathematica, Inc. of Princeton. Work should begin during the third quarter. A number of bids on additional projects remain outstanding, and we expect to know about these shortly."

"We presently expect a relatively level third quarter, with indications of improvement during the fourth quarter," Mr. Krause said.

News Of The CHURCHES

MORMON CHAPEL OPENS
Visitors Welcomed. An open house will be held this Saturday from 2-6 at the recently-completed chapel of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints. The chapel is located on Alexander Street near Route 1.

Besides touring the building, visitors will be able to view displays providing information about the church's activity and interest in the areas of education, compassionate service, the family, early church history, and genealogy. During the open house, interested persons may register for a free genealogy class, taught by a professional genealogist and sponsored by the church. The class is scheduled to begin in September.

Construction on the Princeton Chapel was begun in November, 1975, under the leadership of Bishop Gordon Romney, and completed in July of this year under the leadership of Bishop Steven Wood. Besides monetary contributions, the electrical work, landscaping, painting, tiling, and some of the furnishings were subcontracted or donated by church members and friends of the church. The building was designed by Robert Hillier of Princeton.

There are approximately 250 members of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints (or Mormons) in the Princeton area.

They believe in Jesus Christ, and that His church and gospel were restored to earth in their original purity by the prophet Joseph Smith. They believe in the Bible, and in the Book of Mormon, a second witness for Christ written on the American continents between 600 BC and 400 AD by descents of the Jews. All activities of the church are designed to support and strengthen the family, which is believed to be an eternal unit.

FAIRS, FESTIVALS SET

Supper of hot dogs, sausage, hamburgers, and barbecue chicken will be served. Music will be provided by the Blawenburg Band.

Area craftsmen will demonstrate their work with pottery, hairpin lace, and macrame. A hayride also is planned for the end of the day.

The Princeton United Methodist Church will hold its "Street Fair and Craft Show" Saturday, September 10, from 9 to 4 on the lawn of the church.

Clubs and Organizations

B'nai B'rith, Princeton Chapter, has begun its 1977-78 season with a series of splash parties concluding at the home of Harriet Lavine, Dodds Lane, Wednesday, August 24, from 1 to 4. Elisabeth Gerson, president of Trinity House Press of Princeton, will read informally from a new book to be published in 1978, entitled "The Newborn Muse".

The August 24th party is open to all members and friends of B'nai B'rith. Non-members interested in learning about B'nai B'rith activities are also welcome and those interested in coming are asked to call Anita Cohen at 924-4561. Dessert and beverages will be served.

The Princeton Country Club on U.S. Route 1 will be the site of the next dinner meeting of the Keen-Age Club of West Windsor. All West Windsor and Plainsboro residents over 60 and their spouses are eligible to join the club and may attend one dinner-meeting to determine their interest prior to paying their dues.

The next dinner-meeting will be held on Thursday, August 25, at 5:30. Sarah End, Dinner Chairman, advises that the club will furnish hamburgers, hot dogs, paper plates and tableware. Those who attend will be asked to bring a side dish and their own drinks and cups; however, regulations of the Country Club prohibit beverages in glass containers.

Reservations must be made so that sufficient food can be provided. To make reservations, call Alice Caples at 799-0575, Sarah End at 799-2314 or Mae Phillips at 452-2767.

The incoming officers of the Keen-Age Club are president, Lester Applegate; vice-president, Lewis Chamberlin; treasurer, Nora Werner and secretary, Vera Reuter.

Princeton Post 76, American Legion, will start its 59th year with Lester Anderson as Commander. Commander Anderson lives on Cherry Valley Road, retired from the Township Police Department as sergeant after 25 years of service and is now employed by Princeton Regional School system.

Others elected were Senior Vice - Commander, Stanley Pomykala, Princeton Junction; Junior Vice - Commander, Roman Charydzak, also of Princeton Junction; Finance Officer, Fred Klink; Service Officer, Henry Frank; Chaplain, the Rev. William Tucker, all of Princeton; and Adjutant, Thomas Ward, Hightstown.

The Princeton-Trenton chapter of the Special Libraries Association has named its officers for the next 12 months: President, Rosemary A. Little, Public Administration Collection, Princeton University; Vice-President, Ann Gottlieb, Schering Plough Corporation; Treasurer, Priscilla Walsh, New Jersey Department of Education; Secretary, Judith Assenheimer, New Jersey State Library; Director, Maxine Goldsmith, New Jersey Division of Criminal Justice; and Director and Past President, Richard Caron, Cities Service R & D Co.

The Membership Committee of the Business and Professional Women's Club under the direction of Mrs. Sue Rightmire, chairman, is making plans for a wine and cheese party for members and prospective members to be held on Sunday, September 18, at the home of Mrs. Barbara Hirst, 229 Hartley Avenue.

Working on the membership committee for this occasion are Mrs. Mary Applegate, Mrs. Carolyn O'Brien, Mrs. Jean Wiggs and Mrs. Helen Tornell.

Membership in the club is open to working women. The members span a wide range of occupations, among them teachers, nurses, managers, secretaries, receptionists, self-employed individuals, a bank teller, a lawyer, an accountant and a librarian. Young women just starting in their careers are encouraged to look into the club as a means of meeting women already established in their careers and sharing ideas related to work experiences and goals.

The club strives to see the standards of women in business and in the professions elevated, to promote the interests of business and professional women, and to extend opportunities to business and professional women for growth potential through seminars and workshops dealing with topics relevant to the working woman and offering scholarships and loans.

Any working woman interested in learning more about the club, or who would like to join the members at the party on September 18, should call Mrs. Sue Rightmire, days 924-4200; evenings 201-359-6288.

The Twin W First Aid Squad, of West Windsor, broke ground last week for its new headquarters on Everell Drive in Princeton Junction. The contract for construction went to John S. Sincak & Co. which came in with the lowest bid.

The projected completion date is January 31 for the building which will be of concrete block construction and will provide 6,600 square feet. The four ambulances of the squad will be kept in the Squad House which will also have space for the Twin W's boat as well as room for meetings and training sessions.

The Squad is planning a fund drive to add to the funds already set aside to meet the initial construction costs. Contributions should be marked for the Building Fund and sent to the Twin W First Aid Squad, Inc., P.O. Box 385, Princeton Junction, N.J. 08550.

The Princeton First Aid and Rescue Squad answered a total of 67 calls during the month of July. First Lieutenant Wayne Smith reports that the men and women of the squad responded to 48 emergency calls, 14 transportation calls and 5 miscellaneous calls. They expended 279 man-hours and traveled 1,021 miles.

The Young Democratic Club of Mercer County will meet on Tuesday August 23, at 8 at the Quaker Bridge Inn. The club welcomes new members and the public is invited to attend.

VOLUNTEERS IMPORTANT
At Medical Center. Fifty thousand hours are contributed annually by volunteers to the Medical Center at Princeton. More than 800 men and women of all ages and professions from high school students to retirees contribute their time, talent and effort to bring comfort to the sick, companionship to the elderly, and confidence to young children.

Any hour of the day or evening a person in the familiar pink uniform or blue blazer can be seen responding to questions at the information desk, calming frightened children in the emergency room, talking to a patient needing comfort and assistance or escorting patients to physical therapy.

What motivates these individuals to spend at least three hours each week to help at the Medical Center at Princeton?

Mrs. Deborah Livingston, Director of Volunteer Services, responded to this question stating: "Every volunteer has a strong sense of loyalty and dedication to helping other people. They fulfill an important supporting role to the medical and nursing staff by providing the type of service where professional or technical training is not required.

"They attempt to make each individual's stay at the Medical Center more comfortable by performing services on behalf of the family, visitors or the patients themselves. Volunteers work in the admissions office, at the information and reception desks, in the emergency room, on menu service, religious records, the medical library, the coffee shop and the pharmacy providing a vital function to the entire Medical Center family."

Mrs. Livingston is no stranger to the importance and role of a volunteer. Prior to her assuming the position of Director, she served as a volunteer at the Medical Center for seven years. She is familiar with all aspects of these facilities which comprise the Medical Center. Each day finds her helping the volunteers assigned to the Princeton Hospital unit, the Merwick rehabilitation and extended care unit or the Princeton House mental health facility.

"As the Medical Center grows, services do increase and many more needs are discovered. The importance of volunteers grows with each expansion of services. We need more and more individuals to operate effectively as an integral part in the daily operation of the Medical Center, and will certainly appreciate any additional help we can get."

Mrs. Livingston explained that the volunteers come from Titusville, Kendall Park, Hopewell, the Windsors, Pennington, Cranbury, the Princetons, Lawrenceville and Yardley, Pennsylvania. "They are people from all walks of life who are busy in their own lives, but who are willing to give three or more hours a week to help at the hospital.

"They are trained by members of the Volunteer Service Committee, who themselves are volunteers, to assist in any of three units of the Medical Center. They are truly providing a tremendous service to the people of the community through their efforts and devotion as there is a perpetual need for volunteers. Anyone who would like to learn more about being a volunteer, please call me at the Medical Center," she noted.

PS WHERE PEOPLE

Save for it?
and earn interest or Charge it?
and pay interest

More people everyday hesitate to charge purchases. While there can be good reasons to charge it, there is also the harsh reality of finance charges and interest rates. Because charging an item is really like borrowing money on time, whatever you charge ends up costing you more. And the small print on every credit card carries some hefty borrowing rates up to 18% a year.

It may be old fashioned to save up for the things you want, but it cuts down on your monthly expenses. You actually earn money while you save, especially when you save at Princeton Savings where your money earns the highest regular savings rate allowed by law, 5 1/4% a year.

In more cases than you may realize it pays to save for the things you want... where people make the difference.

photography, ornamental horticulture and foreign languages. These courses are available at convenient hours during the day and the evening, Monday through Saturday.

Senior citizen registration days are scheduled at the West Windsor Campus Wednesday, August 31, from 10 to 5 and Thursday, September 1, from 10 to 4.

ITALIAN NOW OFFERED

At Franklin Township High. When the Franklin Township Board of Education voted to approve a new course offering, Italian I, at its August meeting, it was complying with the wishes of some 25 Franklin families who petitioned Principal M. Lee Blaustein last summer for introduction of the course.

"This new language option will be a fine supplement to an already outstanding foreign language program," noted Harry E. Martyn, Assistant Superintendent for Personnel and Administration, who represented the administration at the meeting. "Franklin High already offered an unusual variety of modern foreign languages - Spanish, French, Swahili, Russian and German," he explained. "Italian will increase the options to six modern languages, in addition to Latin, a total which surpasses virtually all other high schools and is indicative of the widely varied curriculum available at our high school."

When Mr. Blaustein first approached the school administration about initiating the new course, he recommended that a minimum limit of 50 students be set as a prerequisite to introduction of Italian. In fact, nearly 90 young people have signed up for this fall.

Instruction will be provided by music instructor Anthony Parisi, a native Italian, who is already on the faculty of the school. He will have a split assignment, dividing his time between three sections in Italian and two in choral music. The full-year course will be opened to all Franklin High School students as an elective.

TOUR PRINCETON

During Tuesday Lunch-Hour. A "lunch-break" bus tour of Princeton will be offered to the public at 11:45 on Tuesday.

Forty-eight people will leave at noon from the corner of Vandeventer and Nassau for a 12-mile guided tour through Princeton with a volunteer guide providing commentary. The charge is $1.50 per person. The tour is sponsored by the Historical Society of Princeton through its Visitors' Tour Committee.

No reservations will be taken - it's first come, first served. The bus will return to its starting point at 1:15.

Bainbridge House, headquarters of the Society at 158 Nassau Street, will be open for visitors during that day for its usual hours, 10 to 4. The current exhibit is a replica of an 18th century tavern.

EARLY MAILING URGED

For Shipment to Israel. The Israeli postal administration has set a number of deadlines for receiving mail to be delivered prior to the Jewish New Year, according to the U.S. Postal Service.

The Jewish New Year will begin September 13.

In order to assure delivery in time for the observance, all surface parcels should be received in Israel by August 25; surface letters and cards by September 1; airmail parcels by September 6; and airmail letters and cards no later than September 8.

Postmasters in this area may be consulted to determine the length of time it will take mail to reach Israel.

CLINIC OPENING SET

For Disabled Children. The Lewis Clinic for Educational Therapy will begin its fall term Wednesday, September 14.

The clinic, a member of the Orton Society, provides a complete curriculum for the learning disabled child within a traditional classroom setting. Emphasis is placed on the development of language ability - reading, spelling, handwriting, comprehension, creative writing and study skills.

Swimming and indoor-outdoor sports are presented in a special gym program geared to developing motor ability. Art and music programs have been added this year.

For further information, contact the clinic secretary at 799-0190, or write the Lewis Clinic for Educational Therapy, 621 Alexander Road, Princeton.

90 BOOKS GIVEN

To University on Israel. A collection of 90 books, pamphlets and position papers on Israel and the Mideast has been presented to the Firestone Library at Princeton University as part of a nationwide effort by a Jewish men's laity group to help the American public better understand this historic region.

The material was presented by Louis Gourvitz, a member of the board of the National Federation of Jewish Men's Clubs, to Alexander Wainwright, assistant university librarian for collection development.

Mr. Gourvitz, representing the National Federation, said, "These publications and papers are being donated to public and college libraries across the country and Canada in an effort to impress upon the public the vital role Israel plays in the Middle East and the world. 'It is being made available to college students, faculty and the greater Princeton community to broaden information about one of the most important areas of international interest in the world today.'"

The gift of the materials, he added, "is part of a national program designed by the National Federation to develop a balanced understanding of the problems besetting Israel and the Arab nations and their affect on world peace." Authored by well-known writers, scholars and political figures, the material focuses on such subjects as the place of Jerusalem and Zionism in Israel; the religious, cultural and educational life of Israel and the Arab world; the Moslem religious life in Jerusalem, and the Soviet-U.S. involvement in the Mideast.

The national Federation of Jewish Men's Clubs is an organization of 40,000 members in the United States and Canada dedicated to brotherhood, unity and faith.

Attending the presentation were Prof. John H. Marks, chairman of the Near Eastern Studies Department at Princeton, and David Freeman, a Princeton alumnus and treasurer of the N.Y. Metropolitan Region of Men's clubs.

Here's an interesting question ... Who's the only player in baseball history to lead a major league in earned run average as a PITCHER and in hitting home runs as a BATTER? ... It's a little-known fact that at the beginning of his career, Babe Ruth was a pitcher and actually led the American League in earned run average in 1916 ... In later years, of course, he led the league many times in homers as a batter.

Did you know that tennis star Bjorn Borg took up tennis only by accident? ... When Borg was a kid in Sweden, he played hockey and never played tennis until his father happened to win a tennis racket as a prize in a contest ... His father gave the racket to Bjorn, and he started playing tennis only then ... So, if his father hadn't won that contest, Bjorn Borg might never have become a tennis champion.

Of all the major pro sports teams today, only two have nicknames that honor an actual sports person -- and both teams are in the same city ... One is the Cleveland Browns of the National Football League who were named after their first coach, Paul Brown ... The other is the Cleveland Indians of baseball who were named in honor of the first American Indian to play in the majors, Luis Sockalexis ... Sockalexis had played for Cleveland when they were known as the Spiders.

SPORTS In Princeton

KOFFEE KUP ONE-UP
In Women's Softball. In the first round of playoff games, Koffee Kup and Conte's Bar each swept two games from Kingston Wine and Community Liquors respectively to advance to the finals in the women's softball league.

In the first game of the two-out-of-three finals, Koffee Kup, taking advantage of six walks, also pounded out nine hits during the first two innings to take an early 10-0 lead to rout Conte's Bar, 16-3. Jayme Edwards hit a home run and two singles and drove in four runs to lead the Koffee Kup attack. Kup's tough defense helped silence the big bats of Conte's.

Debbie Breithaupt of Conte's and Judi Grisham of Koffee Kup were outstanding on defense. The Kup has not been beaten in its last 14 games. Its last defeat came at the hands of Conte's Bar.

CLASSES, CAMP SET
For Fall Tennis. The Princeton Community Tennis Program's fall brochure describing all tennis classes is in the mail. Classes will open September 12 and run for six weeks through October 23.

Led by Art Cramp and Dan Thompson, the advanced series will offer concentrated work on specific strokes. Highlighted will be the first and second serve, approach and volley shots, and the lob and overhead with singles and doubles strategy a part of each course.

The adult mini-camp under the direction of Doug MacCurdy and John Gudzinowicz will be held September 19-23 at the Princeton Indoor Tennis Center. Registration is now being accepted at the Tennis Office, 71 University Place. Early registration is encouraged.

For further information on the classes, call the Tennis Office at 924-0015.

2 Holes in One at 17
Jimmy McCarthy, who at age 15 two years ago had already achieved the life-long ambition of many a golfer when he made a hole in one, last week got another. The Princeton High School senior, who will enter Florida University next month, sank a three-iron shot Thursday on the 180-yard second hole at Springdale. The eagle he scored by holing out paved the way for a one-under par 34 on the first nine and he shot a 37 coming back for a par 71. Playing in the foursome with him were Tom and Dan Turgeon and Craig Strazza. Jimmy's older brother, Bob, Jr., also has a hole in one to his credit, made several years ago at Springdale when he was even younger than Jimmy. Like most of the rest of the golfers in the world, their father, Robert, Sr., is still waiting for his.

everyone is guaranteed at least two matches.

Singles entries close Thursday, September 8 at 5 p.m., with first and second round matches scheduled for Saturday and Sunday, September 10 and 11. Subsequent matches and consolations may be played during the week by appointment with one's opponent.

Doubles entries close Thursday, September 15 at 5 p.m., with first and second round matches scheduled to begin Saturday and Sunday, September 17 and 18.

STATE FAIR SEPT. 9

To Run for 10 Days. The New Jersey State Fair, oldest in America, will open for its 232nd year on Route 33, Hamilton Township, Friday, September 9.

Open days and nights, the State Fair will continue through Sunday, September 18. Under direction of showman George A. Hamid, Jr., it offers a wide variety of free exhibits, entertainment and attractions. It is the Garden State's annual display of agricultural, industrial, educational and entertainment progress.

The 40th annual Diaper Derby, the championship baby crawling race, will take place in front of the grandstand on Friday afternoon, September 9. Parents of the babies still in the crawling stage are invited to write to Diaper Derby, New Jersey State Fair, P.O. Box 669, Trenton, New Jersey 08604, for free entry blanks.

On Friday evening, the annual Miss New Jersey State Fair Pageant will be held with girls from all parts of New Jersey participating. All girls, 17 through 25, who are single, American citizens and residents of New Jersey are eligible to enter. There is no entry fee and nothing to buy to compete. Applicants may write to: Miss New Jersey State Fair Pageant, P.O. Box 669, Trenton, or call 609-587-6300 for free entry blanks.

In addition to the free agricultural, industrial and educational exhibits, free grandstand shows will be presented throughout the run of the Fair.

Stars of the Hamid-Morton Circus will also perform for visitors at the grandstand shows. Hamid will present Joie Chitwood and his Hellriders on Sunday, September 11, and Jack Kochman's Hellriders on Sunday, September 18.

FACILITIES POPULAR

Princetonians Use County Parks. Figures released by the Mercer County Park Commission show active involvement by residents of Princeton in the facilities and programs offered by the park Commission.

For example, 460 Princeton residents have taken out I.D. cards at the Mountain View and Princeton Country Club golf courses. Three hundred-fifty hold these cards for the Belle Mountain Ski Area and 26 for the Mercer County

Would You Like a House for $12,000? Others May, Too--It's Up for Auction

A three-bedroom ranch house, built by students at the Assunpink Center of the Mercer County Vocational-Technical Schools, is available for sale to the public. Sealed bids will be accepted at the school through 10 a.m. on August 31.

This is the second house to be built as a curriculum project by students enrolled in design drafting, general building and construction, electrical construction, and refrigeration-air conditioning. All work was done under the close supervision of instructors.

In addition to the three bedrooms, there is a complete bathroom, a good-sized living room, a 12-by-12 foot dining area, and a kitchen equipped with Formica-topped wood cabinets, a dishwasher and an electric range.

Other features of the house include a vinyl-coated aluminum siding exterior, Fiberglass insulation, central air conditioning, and red oak flooring. There are expansion possibilities off both the living and dining rooms.

The successful bidder will be responsible for moving the house from its present site on the grounds of the Assunpink Center. Inspection of the house may be arranged through the supervisor of buildings and grounds at Assunpink. Further information on how to submit a bid (minimum is $12,000) may be obtained from the Board Secretary, Assunpink Center, 1085 Old Trenton Road, Trenton.

Indoor Tennis Center. The purchase of I.D. cards allows the holders to use the facilities at a lower cost.

A great many Princeton residents take advantage of the free golf clinics and the free day of play offered during the summer. Use, too, is made of the free tennis clinics.

Two members of the Mercer County Chorus are residents of Princeton, and five musically talented youngsters participate in the Mercer County Symphonic Orchestra. Both these cultural activities are sponsored by the Park Commission. In addition, 593 Princeton residents were served last year by the free lectures and environmental tours offered by the Commission.

Twenty-two Princeton residents play in the Park Commission softball leagues and an equal number participate in the soccer leagues.

While figures are not available on Princeton's use of the county parks, family picnic areas, boat ramp, skating center, and Herron-town Woods, a number of Princeton-based teams make make good use of the Valley Road and Princeton Country Club group picnic areas.

TRAINING APPROVED

For West Windsor Teachers. The West Windsor - Plainboro Regional Board of Education has granted approval to participation in the Piaget Consortium for the 1977-78 school year. This state-funded consortium includes Lawrence Township, South Brunswick and the Trenton school districts.

The project, which will not require any local funds, will involve in-service training and the development of curriculum materials for staff members who will be providing instruction in mathematics for compensatory education students.

The board also approved policies pertaining to the use of district-owned buses by senior citizens and the administration of medicines to pupils by school personnel. The latter policy also includes conditions for the administration of non-prescriptive medicines to all school students.

The board also received a report from Gerard Schaller, assistant principal at the Maurice Hawk and Dutch Neck schools, pertaining to a proposed kindergarten philosophy, goals and objectives as well as proposed new kindergarten and primary report cards. After considerable discussion, it was decided that the kindergarten philosophy, goals and objectives as well as the kindergarten report card required minor revisions before they could be accepted by the board.

It is anticipated that these items will be approved at the August meeting of the board.

after the necessary revisions are made. Action on the primary report card was put off indefinitely following considerable discussion by board members and teachers.

Acting in personnel matters, the board approved requests for a one-year leave of absence of Mrs. Denise Fimbel and Mrs. Nadine Black, both members of the high school staff. Mrs. Fimbel has been admitted to the master's program in nursing at the University of Colorado.

Mrs. Black, a language arts teacher, will be teaching all four levels of high school English at the American School in Bergen, Norway and conducting field trips to various European countries.

King's Grant is the Exclusive
Local Representative for Homerica,
The Nation's Leading Home-Finding Service

King's Grant is particularly pleased to present one of Princeton's most distinguished properties; - a superb Georgian house on 43 acres of lawns, gardens and meadows in Princeton's handsomest area northwest of town.

Entering this great and gracious house, guests are greeted in the handsomely panelled entrance hall with black and white marble floor. The exquisite architectural detail is but an introduction to that found throughout the house, much of it imported from England. To the left is the morning room with a delicate marble mantel, deep wood cornice, pedimented door and a bow window looking out to the garden. The wide, graceful staircase with polished mahogany handrail ascends to the six family bedrooms and sitting room above.

The living room is a spacious 28' x 22' with magnificent fireplace and over-mantel, and doors opening to a terrace and to the greenhouse. The panelled dining room, also unusually large, with 18th century English mantel and finely carved pedimented doors can accommodate at least twenty at dinner. The far end of the dining room, with a sweeping vista of fields and hills through the lunetted French windows, provides space for a breakfast table in the bay.

The knotty pine panelled library with lighted cove ceiling, is a handsome book-lined retreat and in conjunction with the living room, adds further to the spaciousness of the house for entertaining.

The long covered terrace opens to the south lawn from the morning room and the living room. The magnificent ironwork is handsomely detailed in a intertwined oak leaf motif. Further along the south facade of the house is the fine large greenhouse with its own open terrace more informal in character and adjoining the cutting garden. Just outside the dining room is another terrace with a green garden, perhaps for afternoon tea, offering complete privacy yet with views across serene woods and greens where songbirds, pheasant and deer are found quietly grazing. In the English tradition of the private park there are brick and hedge enclosed gardens, a field planted in American holly, specimen shade trees, a stand of mature evergreens and a small meandering brook. In every season of the year these acres are a delight to the nature lover. Country living at its finest, yet exactly one mile from Nassau Street and the campus of Princeton University.

PRINCETON TOWNSHIP

On three-quarters of an acre in the attractive Braeburn area. The property is beautifully wooded for privacy, naturalized with bulbs and flowering shrubs, lawns sloping down to a charming brook.

The house, a traditional design of two stories has a large living room with bookcases and cabinets, dining area, kitchen with built-in china cupboard, den, powder room and screened porch. Upstairs are 3 bedrooms and two full baths, excellent storage. The present owner is asking $120,000 for this superb property.

MONTGOMERY TOWNSHIP

A new contemporary country house is under construction on a magnificent site of over eleven acres with gorgeous panoramic view. There will be a large formal living room with fireplace, dining room, and a spacious country kitchen with family breakfast area. The family playroom will be unusually handsome including a raised hearth. The master suite will contain separate his and her bathrooms, three more full baths and a powder room.

MONTGOMERY TOWNSHIP

Here is a truly charming Victorian house on two acres of fine old trees and lawn. The house is entered from the wide shady verandah into a spacious center hall. Living, dining, sitting rooms, plus interesting old fashioned porches. Above is a master suite with private bath plus four family bedrooms and large bath off the hall. $135,000

WEST WINDSOR

King's Grant is pleased to offer two lovely houses, advantageously priced, in convenient WEST WINDSOR. Schools, shopping and commuting couldn't be better from this fine WEST WINDSOR location. The houses are ranch style with three bedrooms and are priced in the $50's.

A sleek contemporary house is now under construction on a 4.5 acre lot with trees and a lovely view in East Amwell Township.

Imagine breakfasting in a lush, year round subtropical garden...right in your own home. We've seen many a house with inside planters, but never one actually built around a garden. The cathedral ceilinged living room, dining room, kitchen and entry all open directly to this central skylighted garden.

Also on this level is a master bedroom with super dressing room and bath.

Curving steps go down between rocks and foliage to the children's level with three more bedrooms and a bath and a TV room which also opens to the garden. $130,000

ROCKY HILL

Most advantageously located just minutes from Princeton, this handsome house is set in a beautifully landscaped acre of trees, lawn, and swimming pool. The house, traditional in design, has a center hall opening to living room with fireplace, formal dining room, country kitchen and a spacious screened porch. A study and half bath complete the main floor. But above are 4 bedrooms and two baths. Below is a finished family playroom with bar. The house is centrally air conditioned. The property is convenient and appropriate for professional home useage. $99,500

INVESTMENT OPPORTUNITY IN PRINCETON

Historic 18th Century house becomes charming inn with fine restaurant and bar facilities. And all in a superb location, just off Nassau Street at the edge of Princeton's handsomest residential area.

The main floor opening from a handsome double porch contains central foyer with reception desk flanked by a well proportioned cocktail lounge and bar plus a large three room dining area. Full restaurant kitchen and pantry service areas complete the principal floor. Below is a most interesting rathskeller-type area with rooms eminently suited for informal private parties.

PRINCETON TOWNSHIP

This is a spacious mini-estate of over three acres offering privacy yet superb location just off the Great Road.

Particularly handsome frame and stone New Jersey farmhouse with unusually large rooms. Both the formal step-down living room and the large open-beamed study open to the stone patio so ideal for summer entertaining. There is a free-form in-ground swimming pool just beyond.

On the second floor the master's suite is particularly large and well-designed. There are three other family bedrooms, three full baths and a powder room in this outstanding country house. $250,000

KINGSWAY COMMONS

in nearby Montgomery Township has a Princeton address and phone

KING'S GRANT is pleased to announce a new town-house grouping being built on beautifully wooded property only minutes from Nassau Street.

The units, only twelve in number, have been designed in the 18th Century traditions with superb Colonial detailing. Then these quality houses are supplied with the finest of contemporary mechanical equipment including General Electric's new Split-System Solar Heat Pump - late 20th Century at it's best, - energy-saving, summer cooling, winter heating.

These town-houses have been ideally designed with the young family in mind. Entering thru a small foyer with guest closet, there is a formal living room to the front. To the rear is an informal family playroom plus dining off the well designed modern kitchen.

There is a large master bedroom upstairs and two smaller family bedrooms. Depending on your selection from the plans there may be two full bathrooms in addition to the ground floor powder room.

The present prices begin at $65,500, slightly more with some finish choices.

KING'S GRANT representatives will be happy to show you the property and review the architect's plans in our office.
